Expenditures were heavy, but in the main part there was something tangible to show for the spending. The rink now has a radio-phonograph combination at a cost of $28.25.

OLD TIMERS ASSOC. APPOINT OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

A most successful meeting of the Gleichen Old Timers association was held in the Club Room on Friday at 3:30 p.m. when some 15 Old Timers were in attendance. Owing to the death of Fred Duncan McBean Vice-President W. J. Service occupied the chair.

A committee of five were appointed to compile a log book of Old Timers such as photos and material relating to their personal and the activities of the members.

The time work subject of who are eligible for membership in the Old Timers Association was discussed and it was decided that all persons living in the Gleichen district before Jan. 1, 1905, also a wife or a husband of an Old Timer may become honorary members and be known as honorary members of either organization.

Eighty Old Timers attended the banquet as guests of the Board of Trade.

Officers for 1939-40 are as follows:

Pres., Chas. Bourdouin; Vice-Pres., W. J. Service, Gleichen; 1st Vice-Pres., W. B. Brown, Gleichen.

2nd Vice-Pres. John Martin, Rose Valley.

GREAT CROWD ATTENDED OLD TIMERS' ROUNDUP

Another Old Timers' Roundup is being of the past and like its predecessor was a huge success in every way. The attendance was the largest ever recorded with over 1,000 people in attendance both in the indoor and outdoor dances. Over 200 attended the tea dance and about 600 the dance.

Before and during the banquet the Boys Band under the direction of Mr. Aristotle played which helped very much to add to the scenes.

The band was very well received and the audience was greatly pleased.

Music playing continued with a bang when they had been organized for a few months only. The hall was decorated with colored lights and streamers and the tables were set, while the tables were centered with flowers all of which helped to create a happy atmosphere for the occasion.

The program which Mr. Black had drawn up was an excellent one and met with hearty applause when it was first presented. The following took part in the program: Miss Birch, piano selection; Mr. Lang, violin solo; Mr. Patrick, songs; Mr. Suttermister, welcome address; Mr. T. S. St. John, Hamil Riley, secretary of the Alberta Old Timers Association and F. Collicutt, president of the association and D. McKinnon gave short but interesting addresses.

NOTES OF THE BIG NIGHT

Art Bremer with his Old Time Orchestra supplied the music for the dance. Without Mr. Bremer on deck - well it just could not be an Old Time dance for he has always been in charge of what was said.

Chairman Jimmy Black ran off the best program we have heard yet. Speeches short and snappy and to the point impressed with snappy musical and other numbers.

Local speakers were set up in the hall for the time when which announcements were made. This was a considerable improvement over other years as the crowd were better able to hear what was said.

Several Old Timers made a double header of it this year, coming from the Roundup held the night before in Calgary to Gleichen.

Lou Michel had charge of the dance and it kept him hopping around all night to keep things going smoothly and see that the crowd had a good time. Lou's efforts must have been appreciated because at 3 a.m. when the orchestra started to play Home

Sweet Home they howled for more. Mr. Michael surrendered to the appeal and the dance continued until four o'clock.

An Old Timer present had attended the wedding party of Locke and Mrs. McKinnon held at the old Strange ranch.

There were people present who had come from a distance of over one hundred miles. Most of the women came from Moose Jaw, and even from Regina. The excellent weather which was just around freezing point, no doubt, had much to do with the large attendance. All Old Timers demanded a good time and they were given one.

The time work subject of who are eligible for membership in the Old Timers Association was discussed and it was decided that all persons living in the Gleichen district before Jan. 1, 1905, also a wife or a husband of an Old Timer may become honorary members and be known as honorary members of either organization.

Henry Scott had not met Frank Collicutt since 1891 - that's a few years back.

Among the visitors who had missed our Roundup the past year or two were Mr. and Mrs. Layton Bassett; Mr. and Mrs. Biggar, from Brandon; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hardwick and Miss H. Hardwick, Armada; and Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Buffalo.

If big crowds keep attending this annual affair the town will have to ponder over enlarging the hall.

We heard some say that the Old Timers dance is not an old time dance any more. Said one individual: "Take a look at that minute the most beautiful dance ever invented if you can find it. I don't know if couples are trying to dance it right but they are overwhelmed by the using modern dancers who won't mind and know how to do it."

Others say that the dance is half ballroom.

What can be done about it? Remember you cannot force people to dance if you would like. If you have an idea come along with it.

PROF. K. W. NEATBY, head of the Line Country Research Department, has been selected by the Line Research Foundation to head the newly formed Agricultural Division of the Research Department.

Line Country Research Companies announced today that they have formed an agricultural division of the research department.

The new department will be under the direction of Professor K. W. Neatby.

"For some considerable time past the line elevators have been giving the Line Country Research Department effective and constructive manner in which they could assist in agriculture," said G. W. P. Heffelfinger, president of the Line Research Foundation. "We have given a free hand in deciding the work of this new department to the Line Country Research Companies in Western Canada. Particular attention will be given to the grain and crop improvement work."

Professor Neatby spent his early years in the United States, where he obtained his B.S.A. degree at the University of Saskatchewan. He performed post-graduate work in plant breeding at the University of Minnesota in 1927-28 in genetics and plant pathology. From 1928 until 1935 he was attached to the Dominion Rust Research Station in Ottawa, Ontario. In 1935 was appointed head of the field crop department of the University of Alberta.

THE RUM ISSUE

STAND TO!

As we read the Old Country papers we notice that women are doing a large share of civilian labor and war work. Whether women are doing this work because there is a shortage of men we cannot say. If there really is an insufficient number of men it would be remedied by calling up war veterans in Canada. Many thousands could be sent from here able to do any kind of home war work or civilian labor.

Doug Young, the Gleichen boy who has been playing hockey with the Detroit Red Wings, for the past few years, is now with the Montreal Canadiens. But he is not the only one. At the beginning of the season his playing has picked up since he got along with the Flying Frenchmen and he is cutting the mustard as well as ever much to the delight of his friends here.

Gunner Harvey Bogstie of C. Battery, 2nd Line, former of Gleichen, is now a gunner with the staff at Kingston, which old soldiers would consider is doing alright.

Major W. Taylor, O. C. of the 1915 Field Battery in Calgary, has a young man attached to his personal staff for discipline and rations. Uncle Gerry and Uncle Bob say the kid is doing fine.

Strangers often ask why the stampede or rodeo continues to hold it's appeal. To the westerners and we often wonder ourselves. The only way we can figure it out is the uncertainty of results. No one can predict the result beyond a certain stage. On the average the best riders come out on top but the ones who are the best rider may come off his mount in the middle and some outsider gets the prize. Since many sports have entered the class of big business, the result often a foregone conclusion, making the game less fun but the tests are chosen to draw a gate and prize fights have been known to turn out flop because one highly touted side of the fight was a little better than the other. What the winner is a bore contests may not be the popular choice there is no feeling about a horse. There is nothing to be gained by slowing the rider down for if he won't buck the rider has no chance to get away. The spectators are the ones who gain the most but the majority of the spectators know the game and having been bucked off some old prides makes them appreciate what a man has to do to ride an outlaw straight up. Then they generally know the contestants and every big or little stampede has it's home town boy trying to make good with his friends to cheer him on.

"Are we downhearted? No! That used to be the slogan of the last war and should also do for this one. If things are going slow the bread and butter is still there. We should be picking up fast and getting back to the front line again. We are against the strongest nation in the world outside of the Allies themselves and Germany had everything ready while the Allies were still organizing the nations. The Communists who are living in Russia and not preparing for aggression. The air training scheme now getting underway is the biggest thing any nation ever dreamed of and that the sky is the limit will be here for us to prove. ### Turning Back Time

Calendar Of Ice Age Goes Back A Million Years

A new calendar of the great ice ages and glacial periods over millions of years and changes in the picture of man's beginnings was described to the American Philosophical Society recently.

The calendar divides the past million years into seven great days and shows that man was already widespread on the third day, nearly half a million years ago—time when scientists have thought him just beginning.

The calendar is made of the gravel deposits of the four ice ages and the three warm periods between them that have marked the earth in the last 100,000 years. It first appears in the gravels on the thin soil these days, the time when the second great ice covered many parts of the world with ice hundreds of feet deep.

These discoveries were reported by Dr. Heim de Terra, of the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences and the American Museum of Natural History, New York. They were made in the last two years with aid of the Peabody Museum of Harvard, the American Philosophical Society, the Carnegie Institution of Washington, and the Geological Survey.

Dr. Terra said they enable scientists to visualize the life pattern of Asia's earliest known inhabitants. This pattern, he added, is an unexpected story of man.

The new invented early man's homelands and drove him out, changes of climate starved some of his civilizations, but the great human race never failed in beating all obstacles to rise to higher standards.

The new calendar covers a triangle of southeastern Asia, more than 2,000 miles on a side, from Peking, China, to India, to Java.

Children Delighted With New Mickey Mouse Gas Masks

Specially designed gas masks are being distributed for London children to solve the problem of getting children to wear the ordinary grim looking mask.

The new masks are made in different sizes and have two separate eyes and a small protruding piece of rubber as a nose.

In the Borough of Walthamstow where the mask has been completed, an Air Raid Precaution official declared: "The children love them and the mothers are having a hard job trying to convince them they are not merely playthings."

Quicker Bread

Natives of the Lake Nyasa region of Africa use a bread the sole ingredient of which consists of small brownish roots known as "kanga." They capture the flies running into the thick swarms with baskets, and then hand the flies into the bread—Christian Science Monitor.

Was Great Inventor

First User Of Gas For Lighting Died 100 Years Ago

The first user of gas for practical use died 100 years ago. He was William Murdoch, one of Scotland's greatest inventors, whose inventive genius was responsible for the discovery of many aids to man.

Born in 1754 at Bellows Mills, near Auchinleck, Ayrshire, he demonstrated as a boy the trend of the times by inventing a steam engine to move a wheel. His first experiments in gas making were at Bellows and on a small scale. As a young man he applied for, and obtained, a position with Sir James Watt, manufacturer of steam engines. Watt had been considering the idea of using steam as a locomotive power and Murdoch, hearing of it, constructed a working model. It was so good that he tried it out on a long avenue and was delighted with the experiment. But Watt suggested he give up the scheme lest it interfere with his usefulness to the firm.

The problem of putting gas to a practical use then engaged Murdoch's attention. He was aware of the inflammability of coal gas but sought to eliminate by distillation of coal and after long hours of study he succeeded in lighting up his own house and offices at Redruth with gas. In 1788 he went further and the road to accomplishment was built up an apparatus for making steam and storing gas on a large scale.

Soon the amazing discovery was put to wider use. In 1800 he had the idea to use gas to light ships. He had gas throughout the city. Municipal gas gave the world an illuminant infinitely better than anything it had ever known previous to that.

Started In Small Way

Lady Drummond's Organization Did Valuable Work In Law War

Exactly 25 years ago, began, the legend of Lady Drummond.

One has only to view the presentation displays in the various State and county fairs and fests to realize the good use to which rural women are putting the leisure moments afforded by the installation of the sewing machine and labor-saving devices which have come in recent years to the Nation's farmsteads. Sketches of how many wise indicate theowering of dormant artistic talents, and of the uttermost determination that a home maker is developing into a complete woman.

In an earlier day, the lot of the husbandman's helpmeet was not an enviable one. It meant many weary trips to a distant well for water, laborious housekeeping, constant daily cleaning of kerosene lamps—a drear monotony broken only by the time-consuming Saturday trips to town to buy supplies. And, though Farmyard electric plants yielded information at the pressing of a button, Radio and the party-line telephone have brought their intimate contact with neighbors, and with the outside world, into the home. The automobile has metaphorically moved the county-seat town to her front door—Christian Science Monitor.

Canadian Schools

It is interesting to note that war conditions have sent many English boys to Canadian schools. But, says the Toronto Globe and Mail, most colleges in Canada have been closed for the past year, and many students from abroad, which signifies that educational facilities in this country are highly regarded in other lands.

Grasshoppers can travel at least 10 miles a day, and as far as 215 miles in 14 days, according to tests conducted in North Dakota.

Sumatra is the sixth largest island in the world, with 160,000 square miles of area.

To speed up the time of one express train may mean changes in the timing of 300 other trains.

Holland Reclaims Land

Ingenious People Acquire More Territory In Peaceful Way

Interest and sidelights were cast on the Holland Water Management, assistant professor at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, in an address delivered at the "national night" meeting in Kitchener of the Business and Professional Club.

Mrs Heringa, a native of Holland, prefaced her address with an explanation of how her ingenious countrymen had made it possible for 5,000,000 people to live in land about equal in size to Lake Ontario. Faced with the necessity of providing for about 600,000 people to the square mile (Canada has three or four persons to the square mile), the Dutch are not loath around them to see where they can grab land from other countries, according to Mrs Heringa. Instead they are reclaiming land from the sea.

"It's one way of getting more land in a peaceful way," commented the speaker. "The fishes are the only ones bothered by it."

The first step in reclaiming land showed the remarkable feats of engineering by which means the land has been reclaimed and also indicated the new prospects under way at the present time.

Herewith are some notes of interest to the reader:

Land may be cropped two years after the reclaiming process is completed. The intervening time, Miss Heringa explained, is devoted to removing the salt from the soil and salt which would damage the seeds.

According to Mrs Heringa, the Dutch do not content themselves with merely reclaiming land. They work to make it productive. She reported that 18,000 acres are cropped entirely with flower bulbs and that annually millions of bulbs are sent by airplane to all parts of the world.

In her pictures was one of an hydrangea, lilac and chrysanthemum in which in one entire acre of land was under glass.

In Wynyard, a local ninnad was bemoaning the lack of geese, and a farmer of the district came forward with a remedy.

Two years ago a party of "sporters" in boats sailed over the Big Quill one night after dark, turned spotlights on the geese resting in the middle of the lake, and shot scores of the birds before they could take flight.

Since then, few geese have settled on or near the Big Quill to feed in the area. The explanation appears to be that the old geese who lead the flock remember that night, and give the signal of the massacre a wide birth. Local bird observers say that this is the only place in the world where geese invariably fly in the van of the "V" flight formation, and they choose feeding grounds which, in their experience, have proved to be comparatively safe.

The Fighting Irishmen

Thousands Going Voluntarily To Enlist In British Army

The Argonaut, San Francisco, reports that although Ireland or Eire, to give it its Eirean name, is now an independent nation, free of England, the young Irishmen, according to Oswald Garrison Villard, who is watching the situation closely, are volunteers in the British army by the thousands, and the steamer that go from Ireland to England are full of them.

The government of their country has probably not yet realized that these young men do not intend to return when there is a prospect of a thumping good fight, and their inclination is to stay in England now until they have fought for her in the past.

England has never had any better fighters in her army than the Irish soldiers, and is never likely to have.

Their leaders in the Highfield Scots belong to a fighting race, and the Germans in the last war called the kilted Scots "the ladies of hell." If war must be, it is well for the British to have these valiant soldiers who have this instinct for fighting in their blood. During our Civil War the Irish in the North and the Irish in the South fought for their respective sections with an ardor that commanded the admiration of their commanders.

Have Long Memory

Wild Geese Choose Feeding Grounds That Never Change

With geese would appear to be in the same class as elephants when it comes to remembering. And that's why, say sportsmen, at Quill Lake, Saskatchewan, there have been few accidents on the Big Quill lake for many years.

In Wynyard, a local ninnad was bemoaning the lack of geese, and a farmer of the district came forward with a remedy.

The Penguin Post

Daily News Sheet To Be Issued For Penguin Expedition

For news of the world, as well as doing in their own ice-bound back yard, members of the United States Antarctic Expedition will soon have the "Penguin Post," which will be a mimeographed sheet issued once a day, and edited by Roger Haworth, a member of the expedition, who formerly was a reporter for the Associated Press.

"We'll have stories based on radio messages from the United States and also reports of activities at each of the two bases," said Haworth. "I don't expect we'll have to 'replay' very often."

Big Coal Field

M. P. Johnson, president of a Canadian syndicate, said the syndicate had begun operating a coal mine containing semi-bituminous type of coal similar to that mined in Pennsylvania. Mr. Johnson said he believed the coal could be mined in the area 20 miles west of Turner Valley oil field.

For Young Farm Folks...

THE pioneer farmers of the Prairie Provinces were mostly men of energy, courage and perspicacity. They soon discovered that an Oligarchy of Wealth was being built up in the grain handling and selling business. Conditions became intolerable to freedom-loving people.

The pioneers offset the encroaching money control by building their own co-operative organizations. It took much of their time, their meagre savings and vast energy to accomplish the task. But their persistence was unbeatable.

Huge grain organizations from the United States, with vast assets of wealth behind them, invaded Western Canada. Many were formed in Canada, buttressed by millions of dollars. But the Pioneer Co-operators met them all—dauntless and unafraid.

You are protected in all your grain dealings today because of the deeds of the Pioneer Co-operators. They drew up a timeless Magna Charta for the benefit of all posterity on the prairies.

The Torch is now in your hands. It is your duty and privilege to see that the co-operative institutions, developed from the efforts of a passing generation, are strengthened and perpetuated.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

BY H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department
Seale Grains Company, Limited

Some are saying that the speculative buying of wheat is harmful, and if speculation could be done away with our farmers would be better off.

The trouble is that no one has ever yet devised a plan by which Canadian wheat can possibly be sold without speculation.

When we haul the bulk of their wheat to country elevators within a few weeks of harvest, and usually wish to be paid for it at once, Miller overseas takes the bulk of this wheat long afterwards, and do not pay for it until the wheat is sold. Our farmers therefore, are to be paid at harvest time, then obviously someone has to buy their wheat as soon as it is hauled, and then hold it until the miller makes payment. This someone often a speculative wheatseller, is an exporter or an importer, a grain merchant, a business man or anyone else; and if a government board purchases and holds the wheat, then it is the tax-payers who become the speculators, because the tax-payers then assume the risk of money loss from a possible price drop in price.

If anyone can devise a plan by which western wheat can be sold without speculation, then his name will go down in history written in letters of gold.

THE CAREFUL DRIVER

A peculiar thing about speed is the fact that we never quite realize how fast we are going. If we drive along at a safe speed for quite a while it is as easy matter to unconsciously increase our speed a few miles an hour. If we continue thus to accelerate we soon find ourselves travelling at a dangerous rate, and this is often brought forcibly to our attention as we try to round a curve. Then half way around the curve the centrifugal force trying to turn us over, pushes us into the wrong lane, or off the road. The centrifugal force exercised by momentum against a car when endeavouring to round a curve is far greater than the force of gravity. It is with a passenger car due to the higher centre of gravity and larger area or size of our vehicle. The laws of physics are against us.

In going around a curve, the momentum wants to keep us going and going straight ahead. But when we try to go around a curve, momentum operating against us becomes greater than the centrifugal force, endeavoring to turn us over or shove us off the road. That is the reason the highways as well as railroads are banked at curves.
